Welcome to our new website!!

You were probably redirected here automatically by the magic of your computer, but please make note of our new website address for future reference:

www.sta.ca.gov

You may find things a bit reorganized, but hopefully once you see the new structure, you will be able to locate what you seek with ease.

Please bear with us as we tweak the web pages in the coming days to make it a better resource for connecting with the transportation information that helps move people in and around Solano County.

Thank you for your patience!
